See attachment for Bloomberg story.

Paul wants to follow up next week after our meeting with the Commission.

Mark, note Paul wants to talk next week about Tesoro.

Hi Marianne,

Here it is. Appeared in several of our publications including Daily Environment Report; Daily Report to Executives (goes mainly to Corporate C suites- but others too); Money and Politics; and Water Law & Policy Monitor. I never know what ends up on the Bloomberg Terminal, but it's a good bet this one did.

I'd appreciate it if you would give me a heads up on what comes out of your meeting with the NWIFC. Yikes, that'll be a sensitive meeting . . .

I suspect this story might be with us for a while.

Saw your release about charging Tesoro administratively. That's a definite story. I figure I'll probably reach out to Mark on Tuesday to clarify a couple of things about the administrative process and get a live quote or two.

Regards,

Paul

Hi Paul:

Is your story posted? We'd appreciate seeing it. Sometimes I've had trouble finding your stories on line.

Thanks very much.

Hi Paul:

Here is our statement. Would appreciate a link to your story once it runs. Thanks.

“EPA is meeting on Monday with the NW Indian Fisheries Commission who we’ve asked to conduct a full review of its sub-grant to the Swinomish Tribe. We have requested that the Commission not allow any further expenditure of funds under this grant until the review is complete. We expect the Commission’s review to assess all aspects of the their sub-grant to the Swinomish Tribe.”
